The Question.

The only question for our people to consider is whether a dispensary in Rock Hill, operated under the laws of the state, with the safeguards thrown around it, is preferable or not to the blind tigers, which so many of our good people say abound here in great numbers.—Rock Hill Herald.

Oh, no, brother, that is not the only question; that should not be a question at all. "Is it right?" is the question for your people to consider. "Of two evils choose the less," is a very pernicious fallacy abroad in the land. As frequently applied, it is about equivalent, in logic and ethics, to saying, "If you are tempted to commit both murder and theft, steal." But in the Rock Hill dispensary case, the application of the principle would be a great deal worse. It would be saying, "We have one evil, let us embrace the other also."

The man who believes that the establishment of a dispensary is a solution of the blind tiger problem knows very little about the workings of the system. Ordinary reason ought to teach any sane man, what facts demonstrate, that no one will drink less because an additional and easier way is provided for him to get his liquor.

We suppose that no one will deny that establishing a dispensary where none existed before will diminish the sales of blind tigers. It will capture a certain portion of their patronage, and it will do much more; it will secure a vast patronage that the tigers could never have reached—a patronage that will constantly increase. Every man that gets liquor from a dispensary who would not have gotten it from a blind tiger—and their name is legion—is just so much clear gain for the drink demon. Every one who patronizes the tigers will still patronize them unless they get their supplies from the dispensary. The tigers will continue to supply their old customers during the hours that the dispensary is closed, and—on the very supposition that the "moral institution" is run according to law—they will supply drunkards and minors at all hours.

The liquor system is not complete with the tigers alone. The dispensary furnishes their complement. The two together reach every possible customer.

With the tremendous political influence of the State bearing down upon the people of Rock Hill and a tempting revenue held out to them, they must now determine whether they will maintain their long clear record in this matter, or bow to the liquor demon for the filthy lucre he offers. Let them know, however, that if they worship at this altar, they will be called upon to sacrifice upon it an additional number of their youth.

Dispensing Millions.
"Happy Jack" says he agrees with his brother Scotchman, Andrew Carnegie; that it is a sin to die rich and in that respect he is nearer ready to die than Mr. Carnegie. Perhaps he does not realize what risk he runs of spoiling his perfect financial preparation for the final event. He is working in the iron foundry, as a side line to his regular business of mending umbrellas, and that is where Mr. Carnegie became encumbered with his millions. Mr. Happy Jack thinks if he had the millionaire's fortune he could walk down the street any evening and dispose of it in a few minutes to persons who want to borrow from 25 cents to a dollar to buy drinks. No doubt he could find friends to take the earnings of a poor man off his hands very readily in this way, but perhaps he has not figured closely on such a contract as disposing of millions.

We have seen the statement that Mr. Carnegie's income from the steel trust alone is $20,000,000 a year. Suppose his countryman in Chester should generously undertake to spend this for him. If he gave away $100 a minute, 10 hours a day, every week day in the year, he would fall behind the income $1,220,000, which would require him to work over time an hour a day two-thirds of the year. If the money, in silver dollars, were kept piled in the most convenient place for him, he could not hand out more than half of it, working the same rate, even if he could hold out to work all the time as rapidly as he could for a short time. If he had the money in five-dollar pieces and he were required to hand it out as fast as it accumulates he would not have time to be happy.

Seven students of the South Carolina College have been sent home for hazing. Of course the usual lenient sentiment, always ready to defeat "the ends" of discipline, is at work, suggesting that "under the circumstances, the punishment was too severe." The faculty could not have done otherwise; they merely carried out a rule. The boys deliberately violated the rule, knowing its consequences. The rule is a good one and it should be distinctly understood that it must be respected.

Midford Letter.

ASA, April 4.—Winter has passed and the farmers are rejoicing that they have a good stand of oats. With favorable season the crop promises to be good.—Wheat is also looking well. Notwithstanding the ten cent cotton last fall, there is a good acreage of oats and wheat sown. I notice too that there is being as much land prepared for corn as usual, if not more, and it strikes me that the preparation is unusually good. So, judging from above, the cotton acreage in this neighborhood will not be any larger than last year.

I have observed that there is a good deal of sameness among farmers, in different neighborhoods or sections, without any concert of action. If this be true the cotton acreage will not be any larger than last year. You know if we plant several acres each of wheat, sorghum, peas and oats and ten or twelve acres of corn to the plow, it will be impossible to make an excessive crop of cotton.

I have never noticed more energy and push among farmers. The negroes especially seem encouraged, hopeful and in fine spirits generally. Stock are in good order. So, taken as a whole, I have never known a more promising outlook the first of April.

Dr. Kell and Mr. David Mobley, of Chester, have been visiting at Mr. Daniel Hall's.

Mrs. Mose Mobley and Miss Nanie Lee Mobley, of Winnsboro, have been visiting at Mr. W. T. McCrosky's.

The Railroad Commission.
So far as our State railroad commission is concerned, it is a fraud of the first water. Unless a change is made in its membership, the commission had better be abolished. When I ran my saw mill near the river, I was made by the commission to pay more than one-third the money I received for a carload of lumber for simply hauling it 11 miles. I furnished the lumber and cut and hauled the logs from the woods to my mill. I then carried the lumber two miles and half to the railroad on wagons and had to both load and unload it on and from the cars. All the railroad did, was to couple up that car and drag it 11 miles, and as I have already stated, the road took more than one-third of the gross proceeds of my lumber for this slight service. I complained more than once to our board of commissioners about this outrage; but nothing was done, and I finally had to sell my saw mill. The railroads not only pay the salaries of our board of railroad commissioners, but they are furnished free transportation; and I am told that the members are often given Palace cars stocked with food and other refreshments with trained servants to wait on them to, cavort over the state.—T. Larry Gantt, in the Spartanburg Herald.

LOCAL NEWS.

Miss Mary Lyles is visiting friends in Galveston.

Mr. Boyd Carroll has secured a position with Wylie & Co.

Mr. T. W. Patrick has taken a position in the New York Racket.

The Methodist ladies cleared about $127 on their restaurant this week.

Mrs. M. V. Patterson returned Tuesday evening from a short stay at Glenn's Springs.

Mr. James F. Shagle, who has been visiting friends here has returned to his home in Philadelphia.

The Eureka Mills, which have been shut down a few days to put in machinery, will start up again Monday.

Misses Lucy Pegues and Ada Heath have returned to their respective homes, after a visit to Miss Berta Heath.

Mr. F. W. McQuillan, of St. Louis, who is related to the Whites here, paid a short visit to Chester a few days ago.

There will be a meeting of the Daughters of the Revolution tomorrow at 11 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. J. Stringfellow.

Misses Belle Siprill, Edna Hardin and Blanche Morris came up from Columbia last night to spend a few days with home folks.

Miss Florence White, of Clinton, Ohio, who made many friends in Chester several years ago, is visiting at Dr. G. B. White's.

Mr. H. E. League, an expert watch repairer, of Martinsburg, W. Va., has taken charge of the repair department of the Theiling Company.

Mr. Sam Leard went to Baltimore to meet his parents and sister, on their return from Germany. They landed yesterday morning and arrived to-day in Chester.

Gen. Moise was here Wednesday night, according to appointment, but too few were out to justify a formal speech. He gave interesting information about the Charleston Exposition to those who met him.

The displays in the millinery stores at their "openings" have been exceedingly beautiful. The stores are very beautiful yet. It would pay those who have not visited all of them to do so.

Judge G. Williams has received a letter from Mr. Joseph O. Carter, who moved to Mississippi away back about 1857. He said he didn't know which side of the river Mr. Williams was on, but judging from his early habits he thought he stood a chance of living as long as most men.

Miss Edna Hardin, and Messrs. J. B. Stevens, J. C. Robinson, and R. H. Woods went to Cheraw to attend the marriage of Mr. Paul Hardin and Miss Wannamaker Wednesday evening. Mr. Paul returned yesterday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Hardin are boarding at Mr. W. H. Rosborough's.

Monday, while putting up shingles at the Eureka Mills, Messrs. Geo. Ferrell, Will Roddy, Frank Cookson and Robt. Cloud got a dangerous fall, and all were more or less injured. Mr. Ferrell had a shoulder dislocated, two teeth knocked out and face bruised. He has insurance that will pay him $10 a week while he is disabled.

What Mean such vast throngs of people gathering in front of the Big Store with such bewildered expression. Come and you will understand. If police permits in scattering crowds we shall appeal to council because we consider it an injustice. They should remember that there is a vast difference between loafers and genuine bargain seekers. We sincerely hope this will not occur again.

Long Distance Phone Moved.

The long distance telephone has been moved from Mr. Jos. A. Walker's store to the store of the Woods Drug Company. Heretofore the company paid $10 a month for attention to the phone, but now offers only 15 per cent of the receipts. It would be only about half as much. The receipts for the last year have averaged about $35 a month, being greatest in November and December, when they reach $50. The business has been increasing and doubtless will continue to increase, but this means increased service as well as increased compensation.

Little Hettie Childs Free Library.

The above library has been established, and as the name implies, it is free. It is desired that the books shall be kept constantly circulating. One book can be gotten at a time upon depositing five cents. When the book is returned another can be gotten without further deposit and so on until the library is read, or when no library book is desired the deposit will be refunded. The following are a few of the books:

Titus, The Wrestler of Philippi—Beside the Bonnie Brar Bush; Out of the Triangle, The Days of Mahomet, The Lamp Lighter, The Star in a Prison, Intra Mura, Prince of the House of David, Chonita, and others. The books are at the office of Childs & Edwards and can be gotten any time during the day.

For Rent.—Firm room house on Pinckney street, recently remodeled and freshly painted throughout. Apply at this office.

Court Proceedings.

The last case we reported was that of Sam Leach. The next case was Lizzie Nelson and Martha Carter, represented by S. E. McFadden and A. L. Gaston. Assault and battery with intent to kill. Continued. Gabe McCullough, charged with violation of dispensary law, was sentenced to 6 months and $100. Sentence suspended until fall term, on motion of J. H. Marlon.

Alice Cureton, charged guilty of grand larceny. Sentenced to penitentiary six months.

Will Borders, represented by Glenn & McFadden, pleaded guilty of gambling. $20 and one day.

Lewis Johnson, house breaking and larceny. Pleading guilty, 9 months. J. C. McClure, attorney.

Chas. Jagers, assault and battery with intent to kill. Four years or $400. Caldwell & Gaston.

Thos. Rosborough, Brown Colvin, Jas. Abell, Will Douglas; Chas. Stratford, pleaded guilty. Jas. Abell $15 and one day, Chas. Stratford $35 and 30 days, the others $20 and one day. Different lawyers spoke a word in behalf of these prisoners.

Robt. Harris and John Chisholm. Gambling. $50 and fifty days. Paul Hemphill and W. H. Newbold. Wm. Chalk and Robt. Carter. Grand larceny. Pleading guilty. One year. Mr. Marlon spoke in behalf of Chalk.

John Jenkins. Murder. 10 years. Caldwell & Gaston.

Friday evening court adjourned till Monday.

Mr. S. A. Murphy went to Leeds Wednesday to see his patients, Mr. W. C. Cornwell and Mrs. Stone. He found them getting along well. They were walking about and intended to return to their homes the first pleasant day. Mr. Murphy, by the way, has a record as a nurse. He tells us that he has never lost a case of typhoid fever or pneumonia.

Married Under Difficulties.

Miss Mary Moore attended the marriage of her brother, Mr. Jesse Miller Moore to Miss Mattie Bell, at Hickory Grove, March 28th. The party's trip to Hickory Grove was beset with difficulties and anxieties that were anything but agreeable at the time, and on their homeward journey they had to travel many miles in the opposite direction from home, in order to head swollen streams. Since it is all over, they can laugh heartily enough about their experiences.

Mr. Moore's troubles the evening before his marriage would go to make choice material to go in a novel. His cousin, Mr. Theodore A. Moore, who was his best man—and he proved a most faithful one—came from Rock Hill with the groom's suit and his own, but when rain falling from the house, far their progress was cut off by a stream like the river Jordan in the time of wheat harvest. The two young men communicated by wireless telephony, but a quarter of a mile of turbid water surged between them. The groom could reach the home of the bride by way of Chester, but the best man and his suit were completely cut off. In this predicament, all hope was given up that the wedding could come off at the appointed time.

Mr. T. A. Moore, rising to the urgent demands of the occasion, had braved the high waters, coming down from Rock Hill, in daylight, but it was now night, and retracing his steps over the still rising streams in the dark was not to be thought of, and if he waited till the next morning it would be too late. The sequel proves, however, that his resources were still not exhausted. He thought of one way out, which would not have appeared practicable to a man of less determination. That was to walk a railroad trestle and foot it to Yorkville, seven miles, through mud and water, lugging the two dressing cases. To think of a solution of the difficulty was to resolve upon it, without regard to personal comfort, and Mr. Moore took up his march. Some friendly traveler may have given him a lift by the way, but if such was the case, it did not in the least effect the execution of his purpose. The nuptials were celebrated at the appointed time.

We do not enjoy the honor of Mr. Moore's acquaintance, but when he takes it into his head to marry a girl who is willing, her parents will save trouble by giving their prompt consent, rather than locking her up in a castle.

8 P.M.—POPULAR MEETING.
Addresses by Visiting Pastors.

It will be a meeting of unusual interest on account of the presence with us of Mrs. MacRae, the veteran worker in the cause, and of the returned missionaries, Mrs. Sam Hope and Dr. J. M. W. Davis.

The ladies of Purity Presbyterian church extend a most cordial invitation to the ladies of the community to attend all of the meetings. The gentlemen are invited to the evening services. The lecture on Wednesday evening, by Dr. J. M. W. Davis on China will be of especial interest.

Feasterville Items.

FEASTERVILLE, April 4.—Some of our farmers have been planting corn. Some are about done taping cotton land. There was a heavy rainfall in this section last Monday evening and Tuesday morning, which washed the land pretty badly in some places. The small grain is growing rapidly since the recent rains. The hard rainfall has packed the land which, will necessitate reploving in many places to put it in a good state of cultivation. It is raining at present, which will retard farm work to some extent.

The Fairfield chaingang has worked some in this community, and is now working near Shelton and I am told is doing good work. Not long since the writer traveled over the road recently worked by the Chester chaingang from Mr. T. J. Cunningham's to Mr. Robt. Kennedy's. The work reflects credit on the superintendent and his assistants.

Mr. Colvin C. Weir, after visiting relatives in Chester, returned to this community some time ago.

The members of the Beaver creek Baptist church have elected the Rev. Mr. Wells, whose initials I have not learned. He will preach for us on the second Sunday in April. We will probably have preaching at Beaver creek on the second and fourth Sundays in every month.

Little River church, in Fairfield county, has also called the Rev. Wells. Rev. E. A. McDowell, who has been called by two or three churches in Union county, preached several years at these churches.

Rev. R. W. Barber, of Blackstock, visited some of the members of Antioch church last week. We enjoyed his visit.

Sometime ago, while at Mr. M. D. Colvin's, I saw a very convenient and neatly made writing desk, of quarter oak, which was made by Mr. Coleman Colvin, who is taking a course in the technological school in Atlanta, Ga. The skill and taste displayed in the workmanship and finish of the desk is equal to that of the most finished workman, and reflects credit on our young friend in efforts to succeed.

The pupils of the Feasterville school, under the efficient management of Prof. Bethney, gave an entertainment last night, the proceeds of which are to be expended in buying books for a library for the school. It is a commendable undertaking and deserves the encouragement of the people of the community.

I think Mr. William Davis, one of our most enterprising young farmers, can beat the record on catching rats. Some time ago, while in Chester, he bought a rat trap. He caught several in it the first night, and eighteen the second night.

R. R. JEFFRIES.

Messrs. S. T. Lipsey & Geo. Woods have gone to Georgetown to accept good jobs in the railroad shops.

Mr. John K. Coleman is cutting off the front of his building, which projected out into the sidewalk on Gladden street. The front will be made more agreeable to the eye, and we understand that Alf Johnson is going to use the building for a hotel. It was formerly a dwelling house, and is said to have been built 60 years ago.

A shortage of $540 was found in the Adams Run dispensary. The dispenser said his clerk stole the money and had him arrested. The clerk says the dispenser stole it himself.

A few days ago $5,000 was spirited out of an envelope, in charge of the express company, between Columbia and New York. It was sent by a Columbia bank, a bank in New York, and when the envelope was opened it contained only some slips of brown paper. There was no evidence on the envelope of its having been opened. The loss falls upon the express company. Detectives are working on the case.

NOTICE.
My son, Jim Pinckney Cherry, under age, left my home without my knowledge or consent, and I hereby warn all persons against hiring, harboring or in any way rendering assistance to him.

SAM CHERRY.

KLUTTZ

—IN RACK ROOM—

NEW YORK CITY

And Kluttz now has in the New York Racket more goods and of nicer and better quality than ever before. You will be surprised to find such high grade goods hatched to such a little price. Can Collect Tuition.

The supreme court has reversed the decision of "Judge Klugh in which he held that supplementary tuition fees in public schools are unconstitutional. The case came from Rock Hill. Following is the decision, as reported by the State by Mr. J. R. Reynolds:

The circuit judge erred in not finding that the collection of tuition fees was necessary for the support of the common schools in Rock Hill school district.

The general assembly has never inaugurated the system of free public schools contemplated by the framers of the constitution of 1868, and no such system has yet been provided for.

The provisions of the constitution of 1868 in regard to free public schools are not mandatory, inasmuch as no time was fixed for the establishment of such schools. Article 10, section 3, merely required that such schools as were outlined in that article should be provided for as soon as practicable after the adoption of the constitution. If it should never become practicable there was no obligation to act in the matter.

There is nothing in the constitution of 1868 or in the constitution of 1895 (which adopted nearly all the provisions of the constitution of 1868) relating to public schools which prohibits the general assembly from adopting other systems of schools; and, accordingly, the general assembly has from time to time enacted school laws, some general in their nature and others special.

Among the powers vested in the Rock Hill school district by the act of 1887 (19 States, 1168) organizing the same is the power to assess the scholars, as supplementary tuition, such sum or sums as may be necessary to meet the school attended by them."

Under this authority the board of trustees fixed certain tuition fees which were to be paid by such as did not show that they were unable to pay them—the resolution of the board concluding with these words: "All pupils whose names are not entered upon the free list or whose tuition is not paid within the time specified, shall be denied the privilege of attending school."

The said act is not in conflict with any positive provision of either constitution, is not prohibited by either, and is therefore not unconstitutional. And the said resolution being in accordance therewith the action of the said board was legal and constitutional.

It follows that the circuit judge erred in restraining the collection of tuition fees under the authority of the act aforesaid.

Judgment below reversed. Opinion by Acting Associate Justice Townsend. Filed March 28.

Spring cures are specially dangerous and unless cured at once, serious results often follow. One Minute Cough Cure acts like magic. It is not a common mixture but a high grade remedy. Pryor & McKee.

THE SPORTING WORLD

The present football season has now advanced to its most interesting stage. The games which are being played with rapidity. The teams have been developed to such an extent that it is now possible to make forecasts as to the standing of the big four at the end of the season. All of the prominent colleges have lots of material on hand this fall.

CAPTAIN T. BARK

and the chief difficulty lies rather in choosing the best from a host of good players than in developing green work into varsity caliber.

Captain Bate of the University of Pennsylvania has a very strong team this fall, and it looks fair to be near the top of the ladder by Nov. 1. Plenty of good coaches, headed by the astute Woodruff, are bringing the new around into good shape for the important contests.

For the Bowling Championship.

Chicago will have a championship bowling tournament in January next. Already steps have been taken by the advisory committee distributing entry blanks throughout the country, accompanied by invitations to all bowlers to participate. Recently the advisory committee appointed an auxiliary advisory committee, men who are prominent and well known to the bowling fraternity. This tournament to doubt will exceed anything that has heretofore taken place, as the management has vowed that whatever is published will be adhered to.

All games will be played in strict compliance with the A. R. C. C. C. The amount of prizes that will be offered is $12,000 in cash. This ought to be an attraction in connection with the A. R. C. C. C. meeting. There will be ten two-man team prizes, ranging from $50 down to $12 individual prizes from $20 to $5. With this there will be five team medals, two two-man team medals and a world's individual championship medal.

The Baseball Championship.

The baseball championship has been kept in the east since 1881, when De Witt triumphed in its sensational struggle with Philadelphia. Since that Boston has won five times, Baltimore three and Brooklyn two. The letter "B" has been the lucky one ever since since 1880, as the following table showing the winning club, its percentage of victories and manager each campaign, will show:

1881-Boston	650	Shaw
1882-Boston	600	Shaw
1883-Boston	602	Shaw
1884-Boston	606	Shaw
1885-Baltimore	609	Hanson
1886-Baltimore	609	Hanson
1887-Baltimore	609	Hanson
1888-Boston	605	Shaw

Donkhorst Now a Human Aviat.

Ed Donkhorst, known as "the balloon freight car," who has the distinction of weighing more than any pugilist in the business, has taken to the stage. He will appear at the theatre of Bob Fitzsimmons in "The Heaviest Blacksmith," but in reality he will play the part of the human freight car. He has three rounds with Bob in the course of the show.

Fitz knows how to knock out a horse, and he promises to do twice with the show, the stage that will make the production rather a lively bout.

Medals Awarded to Americans.

The English system of awarding standard medals to athletes has been adopted by the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America, and at the last meeting of the association medals were awarded to three men. The recipients of this honor were A. Klaw of the University of California, for throwing the 16 pound hammer the best of the human arm; he has won three rounds with Bob in the course of the show.

Fitz knows how to knock out a horse, and he promises to do twice with the show, the stage that will make the production rather a lively bout.

McFarland Gathering Riders.

Phed McFarland, the cycle racer, while in France this year acted as an agent for the promoters of the six day cycle race, which will take place at Madison Square Garden this winter, and secured a number of foreign cracker who will take part in the contest. These men are the fastest long distance riders of Europe, and they represent Germany, Italy, Switzerland, France and Ireland. The men who will come over for the event are Kiser, Fisher, Goss, McFarland, Sawn, Frederick, Bohl and Chaffler.

"I have been troubled with indigestion for ten years, have tried many things and spent much money to no purpose until I tried Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I have taken two bottles and gotten more relief than from all other medicines taken. I feel more like a boy than I have felt in twenty years."—Anderson Sells of Sunny Lane, Tex. Thousands have testified as did Mr. Riggs. Pryor & McKee.

About twenty times an hour all the blood in your body passes through and is filtered by your kidneys. Think what this means. If the kidneys are not strong and healthy they do not extract all the poisonous matter from the blood and the result is sickness and misery that will remain until these organs are once more brought back to healthy activity.

These symptoms will tell you when your kidneys need attention and assistance: If you have Backache, Tired Feeling, Dizziness, Headache, Nervousness, Pains across the Loins, or in the Bladder, Sleeplessness, Chills, Urine of an unnatural color or Scalding Urine. They mean Kidney Trouble, and you can't get a better remedy than

Vaughn's Lithontripitic

This is a purely vegetable preparation and will effectually cure Dropsy and Gravel. It acts directly on the Liver and Kidneys, restoring them to a normal healthy condition and eradicating all disease.

Two Neighbors cured of DROPSY.

LYON MANUFACTURING CO., BROOKLYN, N. Y.

Dear Sirs:—I am 61 years old and for some time have been troubled with a kidney complaint which I called in Dropsy. I took two bottles of your Vaughn's Lithontripitic and it did me a heap of good. I could not get any more of the Lithontripitic and I sent you a check for $2.00. Then he advised me to take your Vaughn's Lithontripitic again. I have taken six bottles, and my legs, which were badly swollen, have come down and I am now well. Mr. T. J. Little of this place (I believe he has Dropsy) and your Vaughn's Lithontripitic and he is well now. Respectfully yours, J. WARREN BLACKLY.

Sold by all Druggists, or on receipt of $1.00 will be sent to any express office.

Send us your name and address and we will send you FREE a sample bottle of Vaughn's Lithontripitic.
